The Medicine that Cures
—IS—
VEGETINE.
Taking into consideration the character of its vouchers, the history of its cures and the immense increasing demand, VEGETINE may be fairly entitled the leading medicine of the age.
For scrofula in the blood, VEGETINE is an infallible remedy, and no person need suffer from tumors, ulcers, and all diseases arising from impure blood, if VEGETINE is used according to directions. There is not a case of scrofula in existence that VEGETINE will not cure, provided, however, the vital functions have not lost their power of action, all that may be said to the contrary notwithstanding.
VEGETINE is pleasant to the taste, mild in its influence, and absolute in its action on disease, as the following unquestionable evidence will show.
PAID NEARLY $400.00!!
JANUARY 2, 1875.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq:
Dear Sir: When about six months old I was vaccinated. The parties who were vaccinated from the same virus died from the humor. The humor spread over me to such an extent that I was rolled in bran to prevent me from scratching my person. The disease finally settled in my head and discharging corruption from my ear. At this time a small kernel appeared on my neck, gradually increasing in size until a tumor formed of such immense size I could see it by turning my eyes downward. All this time I was taking various remedies for my blood without any substantial benefit.
I then went to a prominent physician in Boston who, during his treatment of six months, lanced the tumor eight times, which cost me nearly $400. This left me with a rough, aggravated sore, without at all diminishing the size of the tumor, and in a sickly, feeble condition. I consulted another physician in Natick, who, after considerable time, succeeded in healing the sore without reducing the size. At this point I commenced to use VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of a friend. After I had taken this medicine about one week I experienced wonderful sensations. My whole body seemed to be undergoing a radical change, until, finally, the tumor broke and discharged frightful quantities. From this time it decreased in size until the bunch disappeared, but my neck still bears the ugly scars of the sore and the lance. I am now healthy and strong and able to work every day.
I will also mention that I have been an acute sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism ever since I can remember, until commencing the use of VEGETINE, when almost immediately all rheumatic pains ceased. This statement I volunteer for the purpose of benefiting other suffering humanity; and you will confer a favor by giving it as much publicity as thought proper.
Very gratefully,
O. M. SAVELS, Ashland, Mass.

What is Vegetine?
It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is nature's remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you a good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for one children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquintance, "Try it, it has cured me."

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.
BOSTON, Jan 1, 1874.
Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have sold at retail 15½ dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given me best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.
Very respectfully yours,
A. L. GILMAN, 466 Broadway.
To H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

VEGETINE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SANITARY DRAINAGE.

CELLAR DRAINAGE.—FOULING OF WELLS.—COMMON SENSE VENTILATION.

If the ground is at all inclined, even in wettest seasons, to be wet or springy, whatever other precautions are taken, a drain should be laid all round the cellar inside of the wall, and at least a foot lower than its lowest bed-stone, and carried away to a free and sufficient outlet. This drain may be made of gravel or broken stones, but ordinary land drainage tile with open joints is usually cheaper and always better, especially as preventing the ingress of vermin. For the largest private house, the smallest-sized land-drain tile will be sufficient. If the soil is unduly wet, at any season, similar drains should cross the cellar at intervals of not more than fifteen feet. All of these drains should have a slight but continuous fall toward the outlet, and should be securely covered by having earth well rammed over them, the whole cellar bottom being then coated with concrete. For small houses, where cobble-stones or gravel are plenty, if the foundation rests on a layer of this porous material a foot or more deep, and if a good outlet be provided at the lowest point, the tile is not needful.

The more insidious process is that of the gradual fouling of the semi-porous earth lying between the source of the impurity and the drinking-water well. In such cases the exudation is usually quite or nearly constant: there is no opportunity for the air to restore the filtering power of the soil, and it becomes saturated with impurity inch by inch, until, perhaps after a month or perhaps after several years, the saturation reaches the well: then every drop oozing in from this source carries with it its atom of filth. While the supply of water in the ground is copious, and while there is more or less circulation through the water veins, the foulness may be too much diluted to do harm: but in dry seasons, when the supply recedes to a depth of only a few feet at the bottom of the well, the contribution of drain water continuing the same, the dose becomes sufficient to produce its poisonous effect.

The dangerous character of the water of such wells is often manifested by no odor or taste of organic matter; the chemical changes in this matter seem to have been carried so far as to yield little more than vivifying nitrates to the water, their organic character having entirely disappeared. Indeed, some of the most dangerous well-waters are especially sparkling and refreshing to the taste. But the chemical processes which have effected this change appear to have had no effect on the germs of disease.—if germs they be,—which retain their injurious character to such a degree that the worst results have often come of the use of water that was especially sparkling and pleasant as a beverage.

The best practical statement I have met about ventilation was contained in the remark of a mining engineer in Pennsylvania: "Air is like a rope; you can pull it better than you can push it." All mechanical appliances for pushing air into a room or a house are disappointing. What we need to do is to pull out the vitiated air already in the room; the fresh supply will take care of itself if means for its admission are provided.

It has been usual to withdraw the air through openings near the ceiling, that is, to carry off the warmer and therefore lighter portions, leaving the colder strata at the bottom of the room, with their gradual accumulation of cooled carbonic acid undisturbed. Much the better plan would be to draw this lower air out from a point near the floor, allowing the upper and warmer portions to descend and take its place.

An open fire, with a large chimney throat, is the best ventilator for any room; the one half or two thirds of the heat carried up the chimney is the price paid for immunity from disease; and large though this seems from its daily draft on the wood-pile or the coal-bin, it is trifling when compared with doctors' bills and with the loss of strength and efficiency that invariably result from living in unventilated apartments.—[Col. George E. Waring in the October Atlantic.

THE PRESIDENT'S STOCK SALE.—The St. Louis papers confirm the telegram in describing the great sale of fashionably-bred trotting and thoroughbred stock at President U. S. Grant's farm, to quote the advertisement, as a complete failure. There was a large attendance, but the unaccountably low prices which everything brought was the subject of general comment. Certain it is that President Grant has sacrificed a large sum of money by the sale of such a large number of thoroughbred horses. One of the most remarkable sales of the day was that of Topsey, the mare presented to the President in 1867 by the Russian Ambassador at Washington. Topsey was bid in for $30. The Nellie Grant team went for a song. This was composed of two beautiful black mares, Lady Morgan and Queene. The original price paid for the Lady and the Queene was $1000. The former was bought for the ridiculously low sum of $42.50 and the latter for $70. Considerable sensation was created: then the Vicksburg mare was led out and announced as the animal which Grant rode in his Vicksburg campaign. The Vicksburg mare appeared to be a most gentle and patient creature. She had nothing of that fierce look, nor the dilating nostrils, nor the impatient pawing which is popularly supposed to characterize the war horse. Long service upon the farm had destroyed all her original elegancies and gave her the appearance of an ordinary plebeian beast. The first bid for the Vicksburg mare was $10, a disgraceful low price for such a famous equine relic. The bidders, however, seemed to be as practical in refusing to place any value upon the glorious association of the mare as the President was unsentimental in sacrificing what many would have regarded as a valuable souvenir of the past. Horsemen have very little sentiment when it comes to buying horseflesh, and the noted animal was fated to go for a song as did her companions, numbering some fifty or sixty.

A PARROT STORY.—My father was an old gentleman who was very regular in his habits. Every evening it was his custom to take a stroll after tea to visit some old friends by the name of Tate, who lived in the next street. Before leaving the house he would open the door of the dinning-room where we used to sit, and would say aloud, "Only going down to Tate's." Now it happened one evening that Polly's cage door was left open. We sometimes let him walk about the room when he was very good, as a great treat. This evening we suddenly missed him from the room, and could not think where he had gone. We all sat to work and searched the house high and low; no Polly could we find. So at last my father left, as usual, to pay his visit to our neighbors, leaving us still looking for our pet. What was his surprise upon turning the corner of the street to see Polly quietly waddling down the middle of the road. "Why, Polly," said he, "where are you going?" Upon which Master Poll cocked his impudent little head on one side, and looked up and said, "Only going down to Tate's."—[Liberal Christian.

THE DAY.

Some of the New York papers are exposing a lottery swindle. Why not make a clean thing of it and say frankly that all lotteries are swindles?

It is reported that Commodore Vanderbilt proposes to erect, at his own expense, a large tabernacle for Moody and Sankey, the evangelists.

Josie Marshal Jewell, eldest daughter of Postmaster General Jewell, was married in Hartford, yesterday, to Arthur M. Dodge, son of Mr. Wm. E. Dodge of New York.

A Presbyterian church, the first we think in Rhode Island, has just been established in Providence. The corner stone for the new house of worship was laid yesterday in the presence of a large congregation.

William N. Crapo, of New Bedford, has been nominated by the Republicans of the First Congressional District of Massachusetts to fill the vacancy in Congress caused by the death of the late Mr. Bollington.

The Herald speaks of certain politicians in New York as the O'Botheration party, and says the members have been hanging over the troughs of political patronage ever since they were able to grunt." Pretty good.

There is still no news of Mr. L. W. Pond, the missing Worcester man. Outrage and murder seem lurking in the air, and the suggestion of one of our exchanges that there will have to be a general shooting match, may not be far out of the way.

Our neighboring town of Bristol seems to be getting an unenviable reputation for rum drinking and rowdyism. This is as might have been expected, inasmuch as the champion defender and advocate of that interest, in the Rhode Island legislature comes from that town. It must not be thought that they can sow the seed and not reap the harvest.

The attendance at the R. I. State Fair at Providence has been very large, and the fair itself a decided success. It was not simply, nor chiefly a horse race as some were led to suppose from the advertisement, but was a genuine exhibition of agricultural products. Though Rhode Island is a small state she is able to get up a big show in this line.

The Fall River strikers seem in a tight place. It is now said that over five thousand weavers are now idle, many of them being rejected by the different mills owing to the part taken by them in the recent "vacation," and others lost their places in consequence of new help coming in while they hesitated. There are also quite a number of spinners and carders compelled to remain out, their names appearing upon the "black list."

The religious troubles in Canada continue to break out in violent manifestations. What the upshot will be remains to be seen, but it is certain that the authorities fail to do their duty in allowing the Orangemen mob to rule in one city, and the Catholic mob in the other. A little more grape is what is need in both cases.

The New York Mail says: The hotels are full of Western and Southern merchants, the down town side streets are blocked with trucks and the sidewalks with cases of goods, the merchants are feeling better than they have since the panic, and the mercantile banks are doing a fine business, but Wall street is blue, uneasy, torpid and dominated by the shadow of one man.

With a view to render impossible the disinterment of Guiteau's remains, a stone coffin, twelve feet long by four feet wide, is being made. This will be covered by a stone slab, riveted and bolted with six iron bars, and will require ten horses to move it. It will be finished Saturday. The burial will probably take place a few days later. It is not often that religious frenzy creates a necessity for such things as these, but there is no accounting for the freaks of fanaticism.

And now the temperance people, or rather the Prohibitionists of Massachusetts have nominated a candidate for governor. His name is John J. Baker and the movement will do good service in helping elect Governor Gaston. As the license men last year treated Gov. Talbot and his friends very shabbily it will be but sorting them right now to withhold support from Mr. Rice. Belting in a game two can play at, and the Massachusetts Republicans will find it out to their sorrow.

Little Josie Sullivan of New York, who had been missing for three weeks, and was searched for far and wide as a kidnapped boy, was found dead yesterday, wedged between tiny bales in a store within a block of his home. He had fallen there while playing. Through a blunder his mother was only told that her boy had been found, not that he was dead. She was overjoyed, and dressed herself to go and see him. She fainted when told the truth, and is now in a very precarious condition. The boy was so wedged that he was not smothered, but the place was not often visited and his cries were not heard. He starved to death.

Rev. Dr. Fulton is still in trouble and is in a fair way to be always in the same situation. Brownlow should give up the title of Fighting Parson, and Dr. Fulton should take it. He not only talks fiercely to his deacons and those who differ from him, but prays scandal at them in the public congregation. It is a pity that so respectable a denomination as the Baptists should be afflicted with such a madcap as Fulton.

"More money, more money!" shouts General Cary from the Ohio "stump." Let Congress adjust our currency to "the wants of trade," writes Judge Pershing in Pennsylvania. Meanwhile the national banks are surrendering more circulation than is issued. The excess last month was $2,500,000, and since the first of July it is more than $8,000,000. This is what "trade" is saying about "more money" and the adjustment of the currency.

Mrs. Minor, the Missouri woman who claimed the right to vote, and whose case was brought before the Supreme Court, has been defeated, and neither she nor any other of her sex will be allowed to vote under the fourteenth amendment. This case might have been settled much easier by her opponents claiming that she was a Minor, and therefore, not entitled to vote.

It is only a N. Y. Mail that said this; no tomale would have done so.

The shipping rates for carrying coal to coastwise ports have ruled very low during the past Summer, but an improvement expected the present month has not been realized. A correspondent in New York writes that "freights advanced a few days ago to $1.40 and $1.50 per ton. An improvement in the rates is always expected at this season of the year. Notwithstanding this and the extreme low freight prevailing up to this time, two or three large companies of the coal combination are determined that there shall be no advance, and have put freights back to $1.30 per ton to Boston. There is a great deal of feeling among captains and brokers at having to carry coal at starvation prices at this season, and it seems probable that vessels will be hauled up very early in the season."

GUBERNATORIAL ELECTIONS.

Connecticut has done wisely in voting to hold less frequent elections for the choice of state officers, and others would do well to follow her example. There are now but four states where the governor is chosen for one year only, viz; Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine and New Hampshire. It will require but a moment's thought to convince any one at all acquainted with the responsibilities of the office, that but very few men can form the necessary acquaintance with the facts by which they are surrounded to act understandingly in so short a time. Neither is any proper opportunity afforded to devise and carry out comprehensive plans for the general prosperity. The uncertain tenure by which the office is held even when a reelection is probable tends to take away much of the energy and spirit with which new plans are devised and prosecuted. Besides, the evils of a political campaign are too numerous to be thought lightly of in such a connection. At times the whole country has seemed to be debauched by the unscrupulous politicians who have the conduct of these campaigns. Business is suspended in a great measure, not to say paralyzed, and the moral tone of society becomes widely affected for evil. These things are too apparent for argument and our best thinkers have long been impressed with the sense of danger that stares us in the face in times of intense political excitement. We are glad to see that the tendency is now in the right direction.

STATE MISCELLANY.

WESTERLY.—Dr. Grahnm's first evening with Dickens and Shakespeare attracted a large and appreciative audience to Elm street Hall, Monday night. The doctor first read a brief criticism of these two authors; then he read that portion of the Merchant of Venice wherein Shylock figures. After a brief intermission came Miss Squears' Ten Party, which elicited repeated applause and laughter. The doctor's reading is admirable, but his platform should be higher, that he might the better be heard and seen.

The town of Stonington has achieved another triumph for law and order, for peace and prosperity. The contest between license and no license yesterday was a hot one in District No. 2, which comprises the Connecticut side of our village. So strenuous were the exertions of the rum-party, and so weakened was the temperance party by the mistaken zeal of some of its members as displayed during the past year, that a majority of 44 in favor of license was obtained where last year they gave a majority of 23 against it. But other portions of the town carried the day, and Stonington has voted down licensed rum. The liquor party last night here in town felt so sure of a triumph that they had prepared tar barrels and other combustibles for a grand illumination. The news of the final result did not reach town until eleven at night, although the heralds drove so fast that they broke their axletree in coming. But when the news came, it was received by the friends of law and order assembled at Town Hall and Sheffield's store, with the utmost joy, while the countenances of their opponents on the opposite corner were as dark as the murky night in which they were enveloped, and the incipient celebration was indefinitely postponed.

The whole list of town officers was reelected by majorities of from 1 to 20. Mr. Sheffield was ahead of his ticket, which shows the appreciation of the public for services faithfully rendered.

BRISTOL.—The annual meeting of the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association was held at their rooms on Hope street, last evening, and the following officers elected:

President—O. C. Barrows.

Vice-President—R. B. Franklin, Methodist; L. A. Bishop, Episcopal; C. U. Arnold, Baptist; Wm. H. Bell, Congregationalist; Fred. W. Pearce, South Christian; George Tilley, Adventist.

Recording Secretary—C. H. Spooner.

Treasurer—G. A. Pike.

Steps were taken to put the library in first rate condition, the books having been called in. Several will be rebound, new additions made, and the librarian was authorized to go ahead and place the library in a good condition, and we trust that it will be well read the coming Winter.

THE SEACONNET POINT FARM AND IMPROVEMENTS. LITTLE COMPTON.

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

Having some business to transact at Seaconnet Point, we made a short call on our enterprising Lieut. Governor Sisson, whom we found in better spirits, and more cheerful than we contemplated on account of his hand which has been a source of great distress and anxiety for a long time. We were cordially received; and after a short interview, at which he is always free and social, we were invited to examine the improvements that are being made upon his farm and around his stately mansion. We had heard of his persevering efforts to accomplish a most noble purpose; but when we saw for ourselves, we imagined that we felt some as the "Queen of Sheba" did at the great labor and genius of "King Solomon;" "and behold the one half was not told me." David, the father of the present proprietor of the premises, had planned out and commenced the work while living, and at his death, he ordered his son to finish the work which he had begun—which he is now doing and designs to carry out to completion with such other improvements as may be suggested to his inquiring mind. The work that he has already accomplished is a sufficient guarantee that the whole thing will soon be put in a more noble and grand appearance in this locality and on his unrivaled farm. He has already erected nice substantial walls about his dwelling, with an elegant lawn in front with drives and walks around the house, and where he designs having a fountain fed from a spring of pure water, with trees, shrubbery, flowers, plants, cannon, liberty-pole and other modern decorations and military emblems.

During the past year the governor has built up one of the finest roads in the town, if not in the state, leading from his residence to the shore near the breakwater, of suitable width and as straight as a gun barrel. He dug down until he came to solid earth, and filled in with thousands of loads of stone taken from the shore—then graded the whole surface with gravel and dirt. It is handsomely walled out on both sides and sidewalks well graded up on each side, from the residence of Mr. Valentine Simmons north of him, to a good portion toward the shore; and intends to continue the walks until they reach the shore, and when finished it will well compare with any street in your city. The road formerly was a rough zigzag or crooked concern unwalled, and was occasionally repaired by the town—but the governor was very much dissatisfied with its ugly appearance and difficult travel; so he has been at an immense expense, to have it more convenient for the public, and in a condition that it will not need repairs soon, if ever. It seems no more than just, that the town of Little Compton give Governor Sisson a thousand dollars or more by way of defraying the expenses he has been at. Let any observing person visit his premises and they will be astonished to see the stone walls—the graded walks that have already been made and are still making. The governor has strong attachments for fine horses of which he has some of the choicest blood in the country, and of late has purchased a full blooded bay stallion valued at $3000. He also has a beautiful herd of stock, consisting of about fifty head—twenty of which are of pure imported blood, all of which need only be seen to be appreciated.

FROM NEW YORK.

THE FIRE ENGINEERS.

Second day of the Convention of Chiefs of Departments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.

At the second day's session of the engineers of the fire departments of the United States, a committee was appointed on by-laws. A committee was also appointed to examine into the question whether a system of self-supporting ladders could be depended upon to meet the emergency caused by the erection of lofty buildings. It was also resolved to give the inventors and patentees of the fire protective and extinguishing apparatus an opportunity of exhibiting their articles tomorrow. Verbal reports were made by Chiefs Johnston of Philadelphia, Bates of New York, Benner of Chicago and Hendricks of New Haven as to how far the instructions of the last convention had been carried out in the suggested improvements in hose couplings. Walter W. Adams, superintendent of buildings, having been invited to address the convention, explained the building laws in this city and the rules governing his department. An invitation was accepted from the Automatic Signal Telegraph Company to visit their offices and examine their system of working for fire protection. The convention adjourned to tomorrow, and the delegates went in a body as the guests of the fire department of this city on board the fire boat Havemeyer to inspect her workings.

TROUBLE AT STATEN ISLAND.

A Ferry Boat War at Stapleton, S. I.—Attempted Demolition of a Wharf.

There was quite an excitement at Stapleton, Staten Island, last evening, caused by an attempt to cut and tear down the pier of the opposition ferry landing. After the second attempt had been foiled by the inhabitants, a third attack on the pier was made by two scows, a steam pile driver and a large gang of workmen. The bells were rung, and some 2000 people turned out and threatened death to those engaged in the attempted demolition. One of the scows was towed adrift into the stream with a man aboard, but he was rescued by a tug. The Staten Island police, together with the crews of the yacht Mohawk and the other yachts, besides several citizens, staid on the pier all night to protect the landing and the club house of the New York yacht club, which is on that pier. It is stated that the attempt was made by order of the harbor commissioners on the ground that the pier encroached on the water line of the harbor. Another attack was made on the building and pier this morning, but the citizens drove the assailants away by the use of hose and plenty of water. A number of the rioters were arrested. Finally an injunction issued by Judge Laurens, restraining the commissioners' pilots from demolishing the pier, was served. The tug boats and derricks withdrew, and the opposition boat is running.

The Suspended Bank.

At a large meeting of the depositors of the Third Avenue Savings Bank, held tonight, a committee was appointed to report on the affairs of the bank, to have the receiver removed, and to employ council to take the necessary steps for that purpose. Addresses were delivered condemning the action of the court at Albany in appointing the receiver.

THE TWEED CASE.

The $6,000,000 Suit Not to be Put Aside, or the $3,000,000 Bail Reduced.

The supreme court, general term, rendered a decision this morning, Judges Davis and Brady giving opinions confirming Judge Barrett's order in the Chambers denying the motion to vacate the order of arrests on the $6,000,000 suit against Wm. M. Tweed or to reduce the $3,000,000 bail. Another decision was given through Judge Davis reversing Judge Donohue's order from which the people appealed, requiring a bill of particulars as to the fraudulent bills and vouchers complained of by the people.

Malaria-Breeding Floods.

The recent tremendous freshets which have flooded some of the most fertile low lands of the United States, have not only caused wide spread ruin and disaster, but have as might have been expected, been followed by an unprecedented outcrop of fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other diseases of a malarial type. The sun's rays, acting upon the saturated vegetation and isolated pools left by the retiring waters, have exhaled a far-reaching miasma, which is pregnant with disease. The most reliable safeguard against it is found to be Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the present demand for which, more particularly in the West and Southwest, where the floods have been most severe, exceeds any which has existed in the past, popular as the great national remedy and preventive of malaria has always been. Never has it been put to such a crucial test, or its claims more conspicuously vindicated. oct6-n&j-1w

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC,

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Frequently medicines that will stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of the cases of Consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind.

These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver.

Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, remaining torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, the result of which is death.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes the gastric juices of the stomach, aids digestion, and creates a ravenous appetite.

When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, or the symptoms otherwise of a bilious tendency, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared only by

J. H. SCHENCK & SON,

STOVES.

The undersigned has on hand a full line of

COOK & PARLOR STOVES.

The superiority of the DOMESTIC RANGE over many others is acknowledged, and upwards of 300 are now in use in this city. Have them both with and without hot closet. PALACE RANGE is something new. It is furnished with and without lower hot closet. It is really worth seeing as it is one of most highly finished ranges in the market. It has six holes and a large surface. It has a brilliant show without one going to the trouble of taking off the covers and thus allowing the gas to escape. It has a handy towel rack on the side, has good large oven with shaking and clinking grate and ash pan. They are arranged so that water fronts can be put in. Mounted with nickel plated knobs, and the upper closet entirely of cast iron.

FOR PARLOR STOVES

THE AMERICAN BASE BURNER AND THE SUPERIOR

will be found on hand. The public knows what these stoves are. A good supply of the Banner Cylinder Stoves.

All the above will be sold at living prices. Just call and see them for yourself.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE INDIAN AGENCY FRAUDS.

Acceptance of Agent Saville's Resignation—Its Significance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.

Acting-Secretary Cowan today accepted the resignation of Indian Agent Saville, of the Red Cloud Agency, against whom Professor Marsh preferred charges. Mr. Cowan also transmitted to the President for approval the name of Mr. Saville's successor.

The fact that the resignation has been accepted in advance of the report of the investing committee seems to justify the opinion that the Interior Department has information that the commission will find Mr. Saville guiltless of the charges made against him, although Mr. Cowan says he has no information on this point.

The person whose name has been transmitted to the President as Saville's successor was nominated by the Protestant Episcopal church, the same body that secured Saville's original appointment.

Return of the Confederate Exiles to their Homes and Allegiance.

It may be recollected that after the collapse of the Southern confederacy three or four hundred Southerners unwilling to live under the goverment of the United States, went to Brazil, where they intended permanently to reside. They were, however, disappointed in their hopes and soon expressed a desire to return to their native land, many of them being in actual distress. Our government on being informed of their condition tendered to them a free passage on board of naval vessels. In pursuance of this offer twenty-four of them returned to New York in 1871. Since that time others have reached this country by the same means, and now the United States steamer Swatara will soon leave for Para, in Brazil, to bring to this country the remnant of the expedition, and will land them at Port Royal, S. C.

The Treasury Robbery.—Indictments Returned by the Grand Jury.

Among the true bills returned by the grand jury are eight in connection with the recent robbery of the United States Treasury of over forty seven thousand dollars, as follows: Against Benj. B. Halleck, two indictments, one each for larceny and embezzlement; Wm. H. Othman, three indictments for grand larceny, receiving stolen property, and receiving embezzled money; T. W. Brown, three indictments, grand larceny, receiving, concealing and attempting to conceal stolen money, and for receiving, concealing and attempting to conceal embezzled money, knowing it to have been stolen and embezzled. The offence is punishable under the statute by confinement in the penitentiary for not more than seven years, or by a fine of not more than $7,000, or both at the discretion of the court.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Insurrections in the Turkish Provinces.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 5.

The Journal de St. Petersburg, with reference to the reforms proffered to the insurgents by the sublime porte, regards the concession of the provincial representation as the best that could have been made to settle the present difficulty. It is certain to meet with general approval. The Journal adds: "And not only ought the insurgents to accept, but the great powers ought to see it carried out."

The California Wine Crop.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Oct. 5.

We have gathered from different sources statistics which afford sufficient data to base a calculation as to the probable product of this year's vintage. The production of the state this year will be at least 8,000,000 gallons, divided about as follows: Sonoma, 1,000,000; Los Angeles, 800,000; Solano, nearly 500,000; Napa, 700,000; El Dorado, 600,000; Yolo, 500,000; Auburn, 400,000; Yuba, Sicramento and Marysville, 1,200,000; Colusa, 300,000; Santa Clara, 500,000; Santa Barbara, Ventura, San Bernardino, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Tehama, Lake and other counties not enumerated, say 1,500,000, making the total above given. Sonoma is the largest wine producing county in the state having last year, for the first time, exceeded the product of Los Angeles. In the next few years a large number of vines will come into bearing, increasing the present production almost one half. The vintage here promises well. It will begin in a few days, and is two weeks sooner than last year.

RHODE ISLAND.

Startling Mail Robberies.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 6.

Most of the valuable bank letters sent from the Providence postoffice to Boston Saturday night are missing. As a similar wholesale loss of bank letters occurred on the last of July, and smaller losses twice since, our business community is much agitated.

What the Cyclone did for Galveston.

GALVESTON, Oct. 6.

In this city scarcely any traces remain of the effects of the recent storm. Galveston harbor has been greatly benefitted by the storm, the channel having been washed out and deepened over the bars several feet. There are now fourteen feet of water on the bar, and Liverpool steamers come to the wharf without lightening.

PAWTUCKET.—The report of the overseer of the poor, for the month of September, which was presented to the town council, Monday evening, states that fifteen families, consisting of fifty six persons, were assisted outside of the poor farm, and the amount paid out was $96.83.

TIVERTON.—Edward Whitters of Taunton took a boat near the stone bridge, in Tiverton, to go to the railroad bridge. On his way, the wind blowing very strong, the main sheet got loose and in attempting to catch it he upset the boat. He then left the boat and attempted to swim ashore, but went down just as some persons who put off in another boat, were about to lay hold of him. The body was afterwards recovered by means of a seine, when it was forwarded to Taunton.

A branch society of the Women's Rhode Island Centennial, which organized in this town last Spring, held a meeting, on Tuesday afternoon, at the residence of the chairman, Mrs. Dr. Wheaton. The meeting was largely attended and very enthusiastic. The reports of the secretary, Mrs Wm. R. Walker, and also of the committee to solicit subscriptions, were very encouraging. The society propose getting up a series of entertainments during the Winter, the first of which will probably be a fair. The committee appointed to solicit subscriptions and donations in aid of the Women's National Centennial, which consists of thirty eight members, propose to call upon every resident of the town for aid, and we hope our citizens will liberally respond. The ladies of Valley Falls and Lincoln have united with our branch society, and will solicit aid in their respective towns.

A number of hotel keepers in Chicago who have been swindled frequently now require travellers to pay in advance. They say a man who intends to pay for his accommodations cannot object to the arrangement. One traveller not appreciating the change in affairs, was questioned by a clerk, who said: "You will not object to paying before you go to your room, sir?" "Certainly not; make out the bill." "For how long, sir?" "Well," says the stranger, "You may charge me for about ten minutes, on the European plan. By the end of that time I think I shall be at a hotel where the clerks wear smaller diamond pins and have more confidence

October 7th, 1875.

During the past week the undersigned has sent by mail or otherwise the bills for the third quarter of 1875 due October 1st. It gives him great pleasure to be able to believe that these bills have mostly reached those who will take pride in paying them promptly even if at some inconvenience to themselves, feeling as they will that no amount of personal inconvenience should stand in the way of a just fulfillment of contract. If any have received these bills who have felt the "hardness" so as to be unable to pay quite so soon they will do a proper thing by calling or writing and stating the fact so that the undersigned can make other arrangements for means to pay his debts which unfortunately cannot be put off for a more convenient season.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1875.

LADY CAROLINE LAMB.

AN ECCENTRIC WOMAN.—HER ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE.—HOW SHE TREATED HER HUSBAND'S RELATIONS.

Lady Caroline Lamb I never saw, but from friends of mine who were well acquainted with her I have heard manifold instances of her extraordinary character and conduct. I remember my friend Mr. H—ness telling me that, dancing with him one night at a great ball, she suddenly amazed him by the challenge: "Gueth how many pairth of thtockingth I have on." (Her ladyship lisped, and her particular graciousness to Mr. H—ness was the result of Lord Byron's school intimacy with and regard for him.) Finding her partner quite unequal to the piece of divination proposed to him, she put forth a very pretty little foot, from which she lifted the petticoat ankle-high, lisping out, "Thixth."

I believe it was on the occasion of that same ball that she asked Lord Byron to waltz with her, when, probably irritated by her impertinent disregard of the infirmity which was always so bitter a mortification to him, he not only refused, saying, "You know I cannot," but added, "and you or any other woman ought not." (His poetical vituperation of the dance, then first coming into vogue, will be remembered.) Upon this rebuff the lady went to a dressing room, and throwing open a window rushed out upon the balcony, and exclaiming in the words of St. Preux under the rocks of La Meillerie: "La roche est escarpee! l'eau est profonde!" prepared to precipitate herself, not into the blue waters of Lake Leman, but on to the hard hearted pavement of a London street, which travesty of Rousseau's tragedy being timely averted by a friendly and firm clutch at her ladyship's skirts behind, she desired to have a glass of water which being brought her, she set her teeth in the glass and broke it, and proceeded to cut her throat with the jagged edge; but this being also interfered with as injudicious, she was finally persuaded to postpone her despair to a more convenient season, and go home to bed. I have heard another version of the above attempted suicide, which made a pair of scissors snatched from the dressing table and about to be plunged into her bosom the remedy of the lady for her outraged feelings. She might have equally illustrated her self-murder by a French quotation from Sribe's funny little piece of Les Premieres Amours: "L'arme fatal etait deja lesee sur son sein! b'etait une paire de ciseaux."

Her flighty and eccentric conduct with regard to Lord Byron, and the many unaccountable vagaries in which she indulged, at length brought her husband's family and friends to the unanimous resolution of using all possible influence to induce him to part from her. Much urgent persuasion was brought to bear upon the kindly, amiable gentleman, and a promise at length extorted from him by his irritated relations to separate himself from his crazy consort.

His firmness, however, was not supposed of a nature to be intrusted with the management of the parting, and he went off to Brocket Hall, leaving his sister to break his determination to Lady Caroline, and afterwards to follow him with the news of how she had received the expression of his resolution never to see her again. The interview between the wife and sister-in-law took place, and the offending lady was emphatically apprised of her husband's stern determination with regard to her; after which several members of Mr. Lamb's family left town for Hertfordshire, to tell him how the matter had gone, to strengthen him in his resolution, and comfort him in his desolation. Arrived at Brocket, they sought the disconsolate husband in vain in the house and grounds till in a remote summer-house in the park he was discovered with Lady Caroline, en Amazone, sitting in his lap and feeding him with dainty slices of bread and butter, which she was literally putting into his mouth. The countenances of the relations must have been curious to see.

Among Lady Caroline's accomplishments was that of being a first rate horsewoman. On parting from her sister-in-law she had mounted her horse and ridden as hard as she could ride straight to Brocket, to tell her husband herself how she had taken his sentence against her. I never read Glenarvon, in which I believe Lady Caroline is supposed to have intended to represent her idol, Lord Byron, and the only composition of hers with which I am acquainted is the pretty song of Waters of Elle, of which I think she also wrote the air. She was undoubtedly very clever in spite of her silliness, and possessed that sort of attraction, often as powerful as unaccountable, which belongs sometimes to women so little distinguished by great personal beauty that they have suggested the French observation that "ce sont les femmes laides qui font les grandes passions."—[Frances Anne Kemble, in Atlantic for October.

SPINOSA'S EXCOMMUNICATION BY THE JEWS.—"We have a custom," said a Jewish gentleman to me, "that when a Jew falls away from the faith of his forefathers, and openly reviles their sacred rites and customs, he is solemnly excommunicated in the synagogue. It is a thing seldom done, because it is very horrible, and because it is seldom required; but it was done in the case of Spinosa. He was brought into the synagogue, which was hung with black; lighted tapers of black wax were held in the hands of the assembled people; the chief rabbi pronounced a discourse recounting Spinosa's crimes against his faith. Then all present approached the centre of the synagogue, and held their tapers sideways over a large cauldron filled with blood, while the candles slowly dripped their wax into the blood, a chant was sung in low, harsh tones, reciting the curses of men against the infidel, and calling down upon him the vengeance of the Most High. When the chant came to an end, the tapers were suddenly extinguished in the blood, and the synagogue was filled with darkness, and there reigned the silence of the grave."

It is satisfactory to reflect that Spinosa recovered some amount of cheerfulness after the performance of this horrible ceremony. Almost the only fact connected with his life that I can recollect is that, in later life, he used to derive amusement from making spiders fight together in a box; whereat, it is reported, he would laugh till the tears ran down his cheeks.—[Latouche's Travels in Portugal.

An old lady of Litchfield, Conn., aged ninety six, has been taking her out-door exercise driving a two-horse mowing machine, which is chronicled to be remembered when she shall be no mower.
